About the Month of Adar

Known as a month of celebration and happiness, the late-winter month of Adar contains the joyous holiday of Purim that takes place mid-month. Purim, however, isn't the only thing that makes Adar special. The Hebrew name "Adar" is related to the word "adir," which denotes strength and power.

Adar is the only month in the Jewish calendar that comes back for seconds. The Jewish leap year, or shana me'uberet (literally "pregnant year" in Hebrew), occurs approximately once every three years. In order to assure that the lunar months of the Jewish year stay in sync with the solar calendar, an additional month of Adar is added.

This year we enjoy a single Adar.

BE HAPPY!!! IT'S ADAR!!!

President's Message

A big thank you to all of you who participated in the Congregation Conversation this week. Your ideas and suggestions were great, and we will keep them in mind in the coming weeks. We will be signing the purchase and sale agreement within the next week or so, and probably the closing will be around the end of June. There is a lot of work to be done to pack up 119 years of stuff and decide what to keep, what to donate, and what needs to just be discarded. Hopefully we will find our new home soon so that we can start moving toward the future of our shul, Once the weather warms up a bit, we'll be working in earnest to accomplish the packing. I hope you will be willing to give us a few hours of help in this project.

In the meantime, we have some fun things coming up, especially the wonderful Purim celebration and potluck dinner at the Freyman's in Longmeadow (more info below). Think about volunteering to act and read a part of the Megillah-I think we have some wonderful thespians in our group!

Gratefully yours,
Joanne Saltman

Special Thank You!!

A huge thank you to Joan and Michael Rosner for donating $18,000 to our future home fund! All of us at the congregation are very grateful for your generosity.

SOZ BOOK CLUB MEETING

Sunday, March 12th at 10:30am

All Other Nights* by Dara Horn

How is tonight different from all other nights? For Jacob Rappaport, a Jewish soldier in the Union army during the Civil War, it is a question his commanders have already answered for him—on Passover, 1862, he is ordered to murder his own uncle in New Orleans, who is plotting to assassinate President Lincoln. After this harrowing mission, Jacob is recruited to pursue another enemy agent, the daughter of a Virginia family friend. But this time, his assignment isn't to murder the spy, but to marry her. Their marriage, with its riveting and horrifying consequences, reveals the deep divisions that still haunt American life today.

Based on real personalities such as Judah Benjamin, the Confederacy's Jewish secretary of state and spymaster, and on historical facts and events ranging from an African American spy network to the dramatic self-destruction of the city of Richmond, All Other Nights is a gripping and suspenseful story of men and women driven to the extreme limits of loyalty and betrayal. It is also a brilliant parable of the rift in America that lingers a century and a half later: between those who value family and tradition first, and those dedicated, at any cost, to social and racial justice for all.

In this eagerly awaited third novel, award-winning author Dara Horn brings us page-turning storytelling at its best. Layered with meaning, All Other Nights reinvents the most American of subjects with originality and insight.

New Member Spotlight: Kathy Black

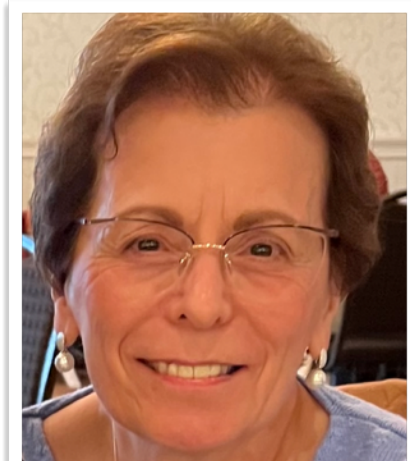

I lived in Westfield for over 35 years with my two children. Amy is now 48, single, and living in Fall River, MA. Mark is 38 years old, married to his wife, Destiny, and living in Westfield. He is a U.S. Navy Veteran, and they have 2 dogs.

I retired as Energy Supply Analyst from Westfield Gas & Electric, in Westfield, MA, after 19 years of service. After retirement in 2015, I moved to South Hadley from Longmeadow, to be closer to my aging father and to my sister and her family. I am a former member of Sinai Temple in Springfield.

I enjoy the company of my dog, Sherlock, a Havanese breed and former show dog. He was retired at age 5, and a family member felt Sherlock would have a good home with me.

He is now 9 years old. My interests are spending time with my precious dog, reading, yoga, and working on my computer. I have not done as much traveling as I had hoped since retirement, but Sherlock fits under the seat of an airplane in a carrier, and maybe we will travel again.

I am so pleased to have been introduced to the Congregation of Sons of Zion. Everyone has been so welcoming and kind. Rabbi Perlmutter makes every service interesting with his knowledge and energetic personality. I feel very fortunate to be a new member of this special synagogue.

Springfield Symphony Orchestra names Paul Lambert president and CEO

SPRINGFIELD — The Springfield Symphony Orchestra announced Wednesday that it has appointed interim executive director Paul Lambert to president and CEO, removing Lambert's interim status.

Lambert joined the Springfield Symphony Orchestra as interim director in January 2022.

He'd been the vice president of enshrinement services and community engagement at the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Lambert said in a statement he was humbled and honored by the appointment at the orchestra to which he has long been a subscriber because he recognizes what the orchestra means for the culture of the city and region.

"I am passionate about the Symphony and what it represents to all of us who love symphonic music and the arts," Lambert said. "A successful Springfield Symphony requires the engagement of the entire community and I welcome this new position in leading the collective efforts to see the SSO succeed."

The orchestra said Wednesday that since his appointment Lambert has overseen the orchestra's return six classical and two pops concerts in the current 2022-23 season. It is the first season in more than two years of pandemic shutdown.

Tony Falcetti, chair of the the orchestra's board of directors, said Lambert energized the symphony while working in his interim position.

"Paul has demonstrated commitment and a real passion for the Symphony," Falcetti said. "Just as important, Paul has the respect of the community and is uniquely skilled at the kind of engagement the SSO needs now and in the future to be successful."

Lambert, the release said, was instrumental in adding new individuals to the board, hiring key new staff, reengaging the corporate and philanthropic community and launching a comprehensive communications and marketing program to support the current season.

Lambert's appointment comes at a time when the orchestra's musicians have been without a contract since 2020 and the orchestra broke off negotiations in June of 2022. The sides are scheduled for a hearing with the National Labor Relations Board in May.

Lambert has expressed optimism that a deal can be reached. And this week, Beth Welty, a violinist and head of the musicians' orchestra committee, said musicians work well with Lambert.

"We are thrilled," Welty said. "Thrilled for him."

Lambert succeeded interim executive director John Anz who left the Springfield Symphony Orchestra in December 2021.

Anz took over after the resignation of Susan Beaudry in April 2021. She was the Springfield Symphony Orchestra's third executive director since the departure of longtime leader Michael Jonnes a decade ago.

Lambert worked nearly 20 years with the Basketball Hall of Fame.

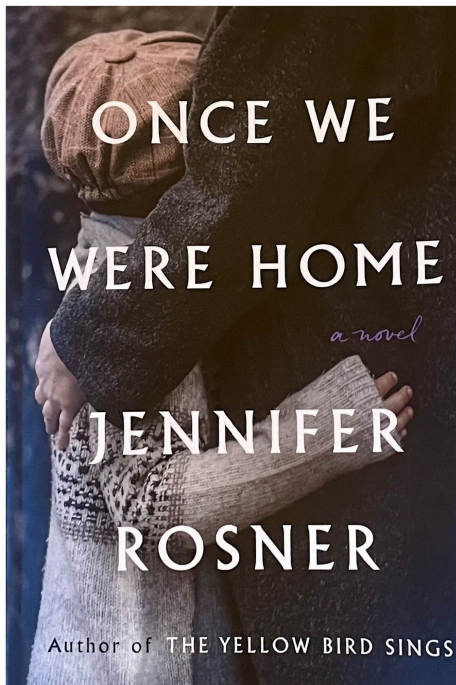

Prior to the Hall of Fame, Lambert served as director of event production for the NBA, working on the development and execution of live programming, grassroots initiatives and international events, including the "NBA Jam Session" program, numerous All-Star Games, and successfully staged events in Canada, Mexico and numerous initiatives and events throughout Europe, Asia and Australia.

Before working in the basketball industry, Lambert enjoyed a career in the professional theater, including his roles as general manager of the Cape Playhouse in Dennis for seven years and as executive director of the Westport Country Playhouse in Connecticut. He also served as a production stage manager for many years.

Lambert serves on a number of local boards and community organizations, including the National Conference for Community and Justice, The Loomis Communities, The Cape Cod Center for the Arts, the South Hadley Cultural Council, Longmeadow UNICO and the Springfield Rotary.

He is a graduate of Boston College with a bachelor of arts in English and theater, and resides in South Hadley.
